Karen: You received a large envelope at mailbox from Writers House.
me: open it up
Karen: Copies of contract you need to sign for the audiobook edition with a publisher. Said they will return a copy to you along with payment.
me: k, will take care of it later Karen: Advance only totals $10,000. Half payable upon signing of contract, so I guess around $2,000 to you in next 30 days or so?
me: yeah, that's what I'd heard Karen: Also I am going to pay a credit card bill out of your account for $793.00. It covers your cell phone, your apartment internet, and the $500 for the bail bonds fee for the Travis Co. case.
